SEN. ALLAIN EARNS 100% VOTING RECORD
FROM NFIB

HONORED FOR WORK AT 2017 LEGISLATIVE SESSIONS TO SUPPORT SMALL BUSINESSES ACROSS LOUISIANA

District 21 State Senator Bret Allain achieved a 100% voting record on small business issues from the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB), a small business association with over 6000 members in Louisiana. Sen. Allain is one of only four senators to earn the honor. He was rated on 7 key votes on issues ranging from inventory tax credit legislation to proposed new regulations on business.

“I am humbled by this recognition,” Sen. Allain said. “I believe it is important that government does not burden our small businesses - the heart of our economy - with needless, unnecessary red tape and regulation. We should encourage not discourage job creation.

This is the second business-related honor awarded to Sen. Allain in as many months. In August, the Louisiana Association of Business and Industry (LABI) named him a 2017 Most Valuable Player per that organization’s annual scorecard.

Sen. Allain, who is serving his second term in the Louisiana Senate, is vice-chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and is a member of the Senate Agriculture, Natural Resources and Commerce Committees. He also chairs the Senate Select Committee on Coastal Restoration and Flood Control.
